MANY ATTEND DONLIN RITES

HOPKINS BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE FOR FUNERAL.

PAPER PAYS TRIBUTE

"A Place Hard To Fill," Says Hopkins Journal.—Insurance Policies Total About $20,000.

Hopkins today paid tribute to Charles E. Donlin, former mayor and banker, who committed suicide Tuesday morning supposedly because of worry over possible losses to depositors by the closing of the Bank of Hopkins.

The business houses of Hopkins were closed during the funeral services this afternoon, and the attendance at the rites, conducted at the residence by the Rev. W. C. Harper, was large. Pallbearers were F. B. Monroe, O. L. Mutti, Dr. C. W. Kirk, George Ulmer, Jr., H. C. Clutter and Elmer Hutcherson.

In its account of Mr. Donlin's death, the Hopkins Journal, published today, says:

"He had worried terribly since the closing of the bank, not by reason of having lost his own personal fortune, but by reason of what the depositors might lose, walking the floor by day and by night worrying over the matter and trying to formulate some plan to save the depositors.

"The night before his death he spent three or four hours with O. H. Sayler and his cousin, W. J. Donlin, of Creston, in going over bank matters, checking off bad paper, etc., and really seemed in better spirits than at any time since the closing of the bank.

Had Been Hulling Peas.

"The morning of his death he had assisted Mrs. Donlin in hulling peas for the noon day meal, the two sitting on the back porch of their home. Mrs. Donlin decided to run over to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, to get a few more peas and when she returned a half hour later she found the husband in the swing on the front porch, dead.

"The bottle that contained the acid was not found, but a small bottle of acid that had been around the home for sometime is missing.

"Mr. Donlin . . . . . carried fifteen or twenty thousand dollars in life insurance and was a member of the Modern Woodman lodge, in which he carried $3,000 insurance.

"Mr. Shelby, state bank examiner in charge of the bank here, states that no irregularities have been discovered and none will be. Mr. Donlin was also trustee of Hopkins township and the books have been audited and every cent accounted for.

"In the death of Mr. Donlin, the community has lost a citizen whose place will be hard to fill, as he always took an active interest in the town's betterment. He served for many years as mayor and was a member of the city council at the time of his death, active at all times in the social, religious and business activities of the community, and the closing of the bank is nothing in comparison to the pall of sorrow shadowing the community by reason of his tragic death."

Once Lived In Maryville.

Mr. Donlin was a resident of Maryville during four years in which he served as deputy for his uncle, John Donlin, when the latter was county recorder.

He was born in Hopkins September 8, 1874. His mother died when he was but 2 weeks old and he was reared by his aunt, Mrs. Mary Donlin, who survives him. Except for the three years as an employe of the J. I. Case Plow Co. at St. Louis and a few years in the grocery business at Wenona, Ill., he had been in business in Hopkins.

Besides his widow and the aunt who reared him, Mr. Donlin is survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Tillie Donlin, Wenona, Ill.; an uncle, Charles Eastman, Peoria, Ill.; and two cousins, Mrs. D. A. Sargent, Hopkins, and W. J. Donlin, Creston, Ia.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends expected for the funeral were Mrs. S. S. Hawkins, Mrs. Annie Wehrman and Mrs. J. W. Lindsay, St. Joseph; Mrs. Mayme Wolfers of California; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Corken, Burlington Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfers, Maryville; Robert Wolfers, Chicago; Mrs. C. A. Wolfers and Miss Mary Wolfers, Pickering; and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Donlin, Creston.

State to Apportion More School Money

Fund Is $271,380.76 Larger Than Last Year, But Consolidated Schools Will Get More Of It.

According to a letter received by County Clerk Fred Smith, the state has $3,490,541.11 to be apportioned among the schools. This is $271,380.76 more than last year. Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools, warns however:

"I do not think the amount for days attendance will exceed 1 cent a day, because the added number of consolidated schools and schools applying for aid for educating orphan children maintained by orphanages will demand much more money this year."

CREDITS WHEN FRENCH AGREE

U. S. PROBABLY WILL NOT WAIT ON SENATE APPROVAL.

MAY WITHHOLD BONDS

Then, If France Proves Unable To Pay $4,000,000,000 Debt, They May Be Exchanged.

Washington, July 8.—The American government will lift its ban on credits to France without waiting for the United States senate to ratify the $4,000,000,000 debt settlement when and if the French parliament approves the pact, observers here believed today.

Finance Minister Caillaux's progress toward obtaining a favorable vote on the settlement in Paris is foreseen as a preliminary to a credit of $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 to enable the French government to stabilize its budget and to boost the franc to nearer its par value.

Treasury officials emphasize that no "assurances" of modification of the settlement agreement have been given, as Caillaux intimated in Paris yesterday. It is believed, however, that the United States will be willing to withhold the French bonds, given for the total amount of the debt, from the American market. Such a concession would allow the French leaders to assert that if France's capacity to pay decreases in the next few years, the bonds could be exchanged for a new set, issued under easier terms.

This is a Caillaux argument, designed to help him in trying to get the present settlement approved. American authorities believe there is little chance of future modification, but such a belief is widespread in France.

Andrews' Resignation Is Confirmed at Last

Treasury Officials Ascribe Denials To Political And Other Reasons—Exclusive I. N. S. Story.

Washington, July 8.—After two days of "diplomatic" denial, treasury officials confirmed the fact today that General Lincoln C. Andrews has submitted his resignation as director of prohibition enforcement, as exclusively reported by International News Service.

No explanation was given as to why the denials were considered necessary on Tuesday but they were ascribed to political and other reasons.

Bridges Near Elmo Are Damaged by Rain

Several Thousand Dollars May Be Needed to Make Repairs, Says County Court Presiding Judge.

Heavy rains this week in the vicinity of Elmo have done damage to bridges amounting probably to several thousand dollars, according to E. T. Bailey, presiding judge of the County Court.

One 100-foot steel bridge over what is usually a nearly dry gulch has been rendered unfit for traffic and has been closed. The concrete abuttments have been so weakened that it is feared they will fall when an attempt is made to repair the bridge. It may be necessary to take the bridge down, build new abuttments and re-erect the bridge.

Three smaller bridges, one of them a fifty-foot wooden structure, have been washed out in the Elmo neighborhood. Judge Bailey plans to make an inspection tomorrow.

Undergoes Tonsil Operation.

Mrs. Ellwood Barrett underwent a tonsil operation at St. Francis hospital this morning. Her condition is satisfactory.

CITY BALANCE SMALLER NOW

CONDITION IS NORMAL FOR THIS PERIOD, HOWEVER.

FEW TAXES COME IN

Water Department Shows Profit for Quarter, After Allowing for Repairs and Renewals.

With a dull period in tax collection, the balance in Maryville's city treasury decreased from $66,076.62 to $59,188.23 during the period from April 2 to July 2, according to a quarterly financial report prepared by W. O. Garrett, mayor and city manager.

The present balance, however, is much larger than was common at this time in the years before adoption of the commission form of government.

Receipts during the quarter were $10,924.94, and total disbursements were $17,813.33.

The water department had a balance on April 2 of $16,235.22, plus $10,000 on time deposits and a loan of $7,000. During the quarter it received $420.33 from the railroads, special receipts of $10, receipts from private rates $108.90, and receipts from private meters $6,802.60, a total of $7,341.83.

The disbursements of the water department were $6,281.61, leaving a quarterly profit of $1,060.22. Included in the disbursements was $2,052.50 for repairs and renewals. Office salaries took $450, wages $1,610.45, coal $398.71, electric current $1,237.49, the fire pumps $75, general supplies $358.93 and general expense $97.53.

The street fund had receipts of $592.85 and disbursements of $1,198.35.

The library fund had receipts of $195.21 and disbursements of $830.13, of which $253.07 went for books, magazines and binding.

In the general fund, the receipts were $2,109.38 and disbursements $7,374.41. The Cook-O'Brien Construction Co. was paid $2,390.83 for its work at Fourth and Dunn streets and other street improvement. City workmen were paid $1,979.25. A bridge cost $260, a drinking fountain $62.48, and the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., was paid $520.49. Engineer's fees amounted to $300.

Street lighting for the quarter cost $1,046.23, and the balance in this fund shrank from $1,815.48 to $894.37.

No payments were made on either first or second water bonds, but $1,001.50 was paid as interest on the former.

Bank Inventory to Be Completed This Week

Hopkins Depositors Then Will Discuss Reorganization.—A Committee To Jefferson City.

R. E. Shelby, in charge of the Bank of Hopkins, thinks he will complete the inventory of the bank within the coming week, according to the Hopkins Journal.

After the inventory is completed, the depositors have ten days in which to decide on what they can or will do regarding reorganization. In fact, Mr. Shelby thinks more time will be granted if it is needed.

On the reorganization plans, the Journal says:

"It seems to be the general wish of the depositors that the bank reorganize, all realizing that this is the only plan whereby the depositors can get the high dollar on the deposits they have in the bank.

"The examiner decided that $30,000 new money and an agreement of the depositors to leave 50 per cent of their deposits in the bank, would put the institution on a safe basis but the state finance commissioner writes that a new ruling makes it impossible to reorganize on such a basis, so it has been decided to send a committee direct to Jefferson City, to consult with the commissioner on what can and must be done in order to reorganize. O. H. Sayler, F. B. Monroe and George Hepburn will likely go to Jefferson City, Friday, of this week, although nothing definite has been decided on.

"If the bank is not reorganized, it is generally thought that the depositors cannot hope for more than 40 cents on the dollar, but if the bank can be reorganized on a safe and sane basis, it might pay out, or practically so, within a few years.

"Mr. Shelby has offered to assist in every way he can in an effort to reorganize the bank, but of course, the final decision must be made by the state finance commissioner."

Progra mIs Announced For Tonight's Concert

Songs from the Old Folks—Lake.
The Star Spangled Banner.

TO DETERMINE RADIO POLICY

REGULATION TO DEPEND ON SARGENT'S OPINION.

NO MORE PERMITS

An Attempt Will Be Made To Test Present Law In Higher Court Through "Friendly" Suits.

Washington, July 8.—Formation of a temporary radio policy by the department of commerce, under which broadcasting will be regulated until the next session of Congress, depends entirely upon Attorney-General Sargent's interpretation of the present law, officials said today.

No new licenses will be granted, no permits for higher power issued and no other changes in administration made until the department of justice has furnished its opinion on the government's position.

Legal experts at the department of commerce feel that the present law has not been adequately tested in the federal courts since it never has been before a tribunal higher than the district court.

It is possible that the department of justice will arrange for "friendly" criminal or civil cases on agreements of facts to be carried to the United States Supreme Court.

Many Cases Confront New Mediation Body

U. S. Board, Created Under Watson-Parker Bill, Meets For First Time —Massachusetts Man Chairman.

Washington, July 8.—Designed to take the place of the defunct railway labor board, the United States railway meditation board came into existence today with a number of intricate railroad labor disputes confronting it.

Created by the Watson-Parker bill, the board met today under the chairmanship of Representative Samuel Winslow of Massachusetts. The other members of the board are G. W. W. Hanger, Carl Williams, E. P. Morrow and H. Davies.

The first case will involve the dispute of trainmen on the Western Maryland Railroad, who are asking for increased wages and better working conditions. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a prominent stockholder in this road. The Senate, under a resolution, "wished" this case upon the board.

Under the law creating the board, the railroad officials and representatives of the employes must give at least thirty days notice of demands of increased pay or change in working conditions. The time and place for the conference between the two side shall be agreed upon within ten days.

Mrs. Katie Lainhart Files Divorce Suit

Mrs. Katie B. Lainhart today filed suit in Circuit Court for divorce from Herchel O. Lainhart, to whom she was married on November 23, 1921. According to her petition, she lived with her husband until May, 1925. She charges indignities, non-support and abandonment.

There are two children, aged 3 and 1, of whom she asks custody.

STATE LEADS IN ROAD WORK

MISSOURI BUILDING SURFACED HIGHWAYS FASTEST.

TO COMPLETE BY 1934

After Next Year, Department Will Build Roads On "Pay-As-You-Go" Basis, Piepmeier Says.

Jefferson City, July 8.—Missouri is building roads more rapidly than any other state in the union. The state highway department this year will finish more than one thousand miles of hard surfaced roads, which will mean a completed total of 3,500 miles of state roads or approximately one-half of the 7,640-mile system, B. H. Piepmeier, chief engineer for the state highway department, asserted last night in a radio address here.

The commission now has more than six hundred active contracts under way for all classes of construction, Piepmeier added.

"The department has sold 47½ million dollars of the 60 million dollar road bonds. By the close of this construction season 55 million dollars of the 60 million dollars in bonds will have been expended in state roads," the chief engineer continued. "This means that, after 1927, under the present program of financing, the department will build roads on the pay as you go basis. The income from the motor car registration fees and the gasoline tax will permit the department to expend about 15 million dollars in 1927 for construction work, and from 10 million dollars to 14 million dollars for construction work each year thereafter.

Complete By 1934.

"This plan of financing," Mr. Piepmeier explained, "will permit the completion of the system between 1932 and 1934, provided no mileage is added and the funds now made available for construction are not diverted."

An effort to divert one-half of the collections from the motor vehicle registration tax and the gasoline tax was made by rural members of the last legislature, who planned to use the money in the improvement and maintenance of county roads. The major part of this fund is collected in the cities. Kansas City and St. Louis and St. Joseph are said to have 75 per cent of the funds derived from these taxes.

Road work to the amount of 100 million dollars has been placed under contract, Piepmeier said, and not a cent of this money has been provided by property tax.

"The system upon which the state money is expended provides a north and south and east and west road in each county. A few of these main roads form a part of a transcontinental system, which extends east and west and north and south across the United States. This state system, therefore, provides good roads for practically 90 per cent of the traveling public. It provides a few main roads in each county and a few cross-state routes to take care of the transcontinental traffic.

The completion of the 7,640 miles of state roads without property tax will be a wonderful accomplishment. It will make possible the development of Missouri beyond the expectation of the most optimistic dreams.

Each Mile of System Patrolled.

"Each mile of the system is under the patrol system of maintenance and it is very evident to everyone who is using the roads in Missouri that the state routes are far superior for travel on account of the maintenance work which is being done.

"The department is now marking the U. S. transcontinental highways. Approximately three thousand miles of the state's road system have been selected as a part of the transcontinental system, which will soon have the same number from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf."

Three Are Injured in Iron Co. Blaze

East St. Louis, July 8.—Two firemen and a company employe were injured in a fire which virtually destroyed the plant of the Southern Malleable Iron Co. here today. The fire originated from a bursted oil pipe over an oven. Damage was estimated at about $500,000.

Still Unconscious Following An Attack

Iowa Farmer, Evidently Struck With Blunt Instrument, Found On Sandbar In Middle of Missouri River.

Tekamah, Neb., July 8.—William Deckert, 26, farmer living in Iowa opposite Decatur, Neb., who was found on a log on a sandbar in the middle of the Missouri River near here last night, had not regained consciousness in a hospital here and authorities have been unable to obtain a coherent story from him as to how he came to be in his predicament.

Deckert was in a semi-conscious condition when his cries attracted Lee Byres, a farmer, who rode to the bar and carried him ashore. A wound on the back of his head, evidently caused by a blunt instrument, leads authorities to believe he was marked for murder.

BUSY SEASONS FOR INQUIRIES

SLUSH FUND COMMITTEE TO RESUME WORK JULY 26.

READY FOR ALL CALLS

Following Completion of Illinois Investigation, Senators To Turn To Oklahoma, Kentucky and Elsewhere.

Washington, July 8. — Although marking time until the launching of the inquiry into the recent Illinois primary, the Senate slush fund committee today faced a busy summer investigating primaries in a dozen states.

With the Pennsylvania three-million dollar Republican Senatorial primary behind it, the committee intends to rest for the next three weeks before the opening of the Illinois inquiry July 26. After that it will keep a wary eye on the Republican campaigns in Oklahoma, August 3, Kentucky, August 9, Ohio, August 10, and California, August 31.

During September it will be even busier with ten more Senatorial primaries to be watched in Nevada, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Arizona, Mississippi, Maryland, Colorado, Vermont, Washington and New York.

At the first cry of fraud, corruption or slush, the committee will turn its spotlight of publicity on the scenes behind the lines.

But It Fails to Say Whether He Caught Any Fish

White Pines Camp, N. Y., July 8.—When President Coolidge announced just before leaving Washington for his vacation in the Adirondacks that he intended to repudiate the statement attributed to him that piscatorial sport was for children only, he was telling the wide, wide world and he didn't mean maybe.

He went fishing on his first day at the summer White House and it was not for the purpose of publicity for camera men were conspicious by their absence and the story did not leak out until midnight and then only in the most roundabout manner.

Mr. Coolidge, it seems, stood on a bridge with his caretaker, Oscar Otis, watching the latter cast his fly. Soon Otis got a bite and brought to the surface a fifteen-inch pickerel. Just as the net was brought into play, however, as all good fish stories go, the fish made one final desperate leap and eluded both net and hook.

This was too much for the President. He asked his caretaker if they both couldn't try their luck in a boat. A small boat was brought out and the pair set forth. Mr. Coolidge trowing with a spoon for nearly an hour. His technique, according to reliable authority, was as good as could be expected of any disciple of Isaac Walton.

Judges for North Grant Voting Named

Mrs. Joe Dobbins, Ed Fannon and William Chambers, jr., have been named as the Republican judges in North Grant precinct at the August primaries. The County Court neglected to name judges for this precinct when making its list yesterday.

1.04 INCHES OF RAIN.

The total rainfall in Maryville last night measured 1.04 inches, according to J. R. Brink, official weather observer.

TAKING BODIES FROM BIG SUB

NOT MORE THAN FIFTEEN MAY BE RECOVERED.

IS NOW IN DRY DOCK

Officer in Charge of Work Declares All Men Lost Lives While at Post of Duty.

New York, July 8.—The grim task of removing the bodies of the heroic dead from the submarine S-51 will be started today. The wrecked submarine is in dry dock at the Brooklyn navy yard following its raising from the ocean both off Block Island and again at Hell Gate, where it sank yesterday.

Precursory examination of the submarine indicated that not more than fifteen bodies may be recovered from the craft, Lieut.-Com. Ellsberg, in charge of operations, said today.

It is believed that twelve bodies will be found in the torpedo room and three others in the vicinity of the engine and radio room. Ellsberg said that the examination showed conclusively that the men had died at their posts and that the S-51 had made every effort to avoid the crash with the City of Rome, the vessel which sent the submarine to the bottom of the ocean off Block Island last fall.

A body seen in the radio room and believed to be that of the operator showed that the man died at his key, the officer said.

Three factors indicated that the S-51 tried to avoid the crash, Ellsberg said. The position of the ship's rudder showed that the submarine was endeavoring to steer clear of the City of Rome and was hard astarboard. The position of the periscope lenses showed that the course of the City of Rome was being carefully noted. The position of the main engine clutches showed that full speed astern was the last order.

Dickey Sues K. C. Star for 3 Million Dollars

Owner of Journal-Post Bases Suit on Alleged Libelous Article Published in Yesterday's Times.

Kansas City, July 8. — Walter S. Dickey, owner of the Kansas City Journal-Post, today entered suit against the Kansas City Star for three million dollars charging libel in connection with a story printed in the Kansas City Times, the morning edition of the Star, here yesterday morning. The article quoted former governor, Arthur M. Hyde of Trenton as saying that Dickey had "entered a wet candidate in the political fight for Republican nomination to the United States Senate in St. Louis and a dry candidate in Kansas City."

Dickey brought suit against five editors of the Star—G. B. Longan, I. R. Kirkwood, A. F. Seestead, R. E. Stout, and H. I. Haskell—and Hyde. He asks a million dollars actual damage and two million dollars punitive damages.

Col. Thomas W. Miller in Plea of Not Guilty

Denies Charges of Alleged Fraudulent Transfer of Seven Million Dollars Worth of Stock.

New York, July 8.—Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, appeared with counsel today before Federal Judge Mack and pleaded not guilty to charges in an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the transfer of seven fillion dollars worth of assets of the American Metals Co., from the alien property custodian's office to alleged German owners of stock and assets.

In the indictment were also named Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney-general, and the late John T. King, Connecticut political leader.

The three are alleged to have split $300,000 in commissions.

Colonel Miller entered an emphatic denial of the charges and announced that he was sorry the Washington investigators of the affair had not continued their inquiry as he was sure it would have shown that his administration was above reproach.

Weather

Partly cloudy today and Friday, probably local thunderstorms; not much change in temperature.

WHO PAYS THESE HUGE CAMPAIGN BILLS?

What is the interest of individuals who give large sums of money to campaign funds? Is it just an interest in the particular political doctrine of the party taking up the collection? That interest probably doesn't account for the millions poured into the Pennsylvania primary; and there are, in fact, pretty strong intimations that the large contributors to these funds expected to get their money back and a profit besides.

If, indeed, political contributions are not gifts but investments, who ultimately pays the bill? Suppose a political organization by the large use of money contributed to it (or invested in it) by its supporters is able to capture the government has big contracts for public work to give out. Say these contracts go to the individuals, firms or interests that supplied the campaign funds of the party that captured the government. Is it difficult to see, in that case, who pays the election bills?

To get the connection read the following from the Philadelphia Record:

Under Philadelphia's political system city inspectors engaged in checking up on the performance of public works are usually appointed at the instance of the contract holders or of their intimate political associates. When a chummy relation exists between city contractors and city inspectors it is not surprising that contractors are able to slight their work and cheat the taxpayers.

The taxpayer is the real angel who digs up the huge campaign fund of which we are hearing so much.—K. C. Times.

Next to softer bumpers, what the motor car needs most is armor-plate fenders.

If the Philadelphia fair isn't a sesqui-success, it will probably be on account of the name.

A Tartar

When the Senate primary investigators go to Chicago to investigate Senator Caraway's charge that Col. Frank Smith, Republican senatorial nominee, spent $2,000,000 in his campaign, they are going to catch a Tartar in the person of Allen F. Moore, Smith's campaign manager. Moore calls the charge ridiculous, saying not a quarter of that sum was spent.

Hermit

For eight years Chicago has had a mysterious hermit without knowing it. Otto, shown above, has a lair in some rocks along the lake front, near the Field Museum and close to the downtown district. He supports himself by catching minnows, which he sells to fishermen.

Once An Invalid, Rockefeller Now Is Hardy at 87

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 8.—John D. Rockefeller is 87 years old today.

He will celebrate the day as he has done other birthdays of the past, with a round of golf, a dinner with old friends and perhaps a brass band.

This day of all days is the senior Rockefeller's day of triumph, for he is reminded that twenty-seven years ago, at the age of 60, he was mourned and given up as a hopeless invalid. Now he is hard and ruddy, plays golf every day, eats what he pleases, sleeps soundly and is confident of his ability to reach the age of 100.

Chillicothe—Livingston County has taken a progressive step by voting an appropriation of $2,500 for farm extension work. The movement will be aided by the University of Missouri farm agents.

Essex—Plans already are under way for rebuilding the block of business houses destroyed here in the recent fire. The loss was placed at $40,000. The new structures will be of brick.

St. Louis man of 25 had four wives. Probably one of these congenial fellows who can't say "No."

Loses Three Fingers in a Clothes Wringer

The year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervie Meeks of Parnell suffered the removal of three fingers from his left hand when it was caught in the wringer of a washing machine at the home of his parents this morning. The fourth finger was badly bruised.

Funeral Is Held for Mr. and Mrs. Wallace

Minister Who Married Them 38 Years Ago Conducts Double Rites.—Many Attend Service.

A double funeral service for Mr. and Mrs. Levi Wallace, who died within one hour of each other Sunday night at their home, northeast of Maryville, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Baptist Church. The Rev. D. F. Bone of St. Joseph, who married Mr. and Mrs. Wallace thirtyeight years ago, conducted the funeral. Assisting in the service were the Rev. Guy L. Prather and the Rev. R. A. Mitchell. A quartette composed of Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence, Miss Mabel Raines, John Mutz and Paschal Monk sang "Abide With Me" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Mr. Monk sang a solo, "The City Four Square." Mrs. John Mutz was the accompanist.

The floral offerings were in charge of Miss Effie Browning of Mound City, Miss Fay Castillo, Miss Marie Cloud, Mrs. Crane of Gordon, Neb., Mrs. Fern McMichael of St. Joseph, and Miss Mary Louise Broyles of Blanchard.

Burial was in Miriam cemetery. The honorary pallbearers were R. T. Lamar, C. R. Lamar and Horace Kinman of Elmo, John Burch of Clearmont, and G. Matter and L. P. Colvin of Maryville. Twelve nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace served as active pallbearers. They were Charles Biggs, Francis Browning, Frank Wilson and Morgan Wilson, all of Mound City, N. B. Castillo and Dale Castillo of Maryville, Cyril Rounds and Dale Rounds of St. Joseph, B. L. Aiken of Atlantic, Ia., Ab Nance of Elmo, Sterling Wallace of Barnston, Mo., and Fred Hensleigh of Blanchard, Ia.

A large number of out-of-town relatives and friends attended the service.

FARM GLIMPSES

BY BILLY TILSON.

Otis Lyle, southwest of Maryville, reports the ground too wet for cultivating corn down his way and if the farmers are kept out of the fields for three or four days most of the corn will be too large for cultivating. He says corn is making a wonderful growth.

Otto Burns and wife, southeast of Barnard, were Maryville visitors yesterday. Mr. Burns reports a heavy rain down his way and some wind, a few of the oats being blown down but he thinks they will straighten up.

Quite a few of the farmers northeast of Barnard were damaged by the hail and wind a few days ago. Those that we learn that had the most damaged were Pete Jorgenson, Homer Stalling and Jack Moffitt, their fields being pretty badly cut up with hail and wind.

Vern Manley, southwest of town, says he has three days more plowing that he would like to do but if he is kept away from the field two or three days he will be unable to finish the cultivating.

C. A. Jackson, west of Skidmore, reports the finest prospect for corn in that territory that he has seen in many years at this time of the year. He says wheat and oats will not make a very heavy yield. Pastures are good and stock are making good gains. Chris has ninety head of fine hogs that are ready for the market but will feed them more corn at a good price before shipping.

Frank Geisken and family of Oxford, Mo. were visiting in Maryville yesterday. Mr. Geisken and family formerly lived at Parnell. He says crop conditions are fine over that way.

Leonard Houstin and wife, northeast of Burlington Junction were Maryville callers yesterday afternoon. Mr. Houstin finished getting his field of wheat in the shock yesterday morning and while the yield will not be large the quality will be good. He says corn is growing by leaps and bounds.

Mrs. John Raublett and son, Harley Patterson and wife, Charles Groves and John Schmidt of the Graham vicinity were in Maryville yesterday. They report a heavy rain with some hail and wind the worst being in near the T. A. Acklin farm.

Port Dowis, the man that raises the big spotted Poland China hogs and white-face cattle, and who lives west of Sheridan, in this county, reports crop conditions good over his way and he sees no reason to complain over the outlook. Port is a good "feeler" in any and all kinds of weather.

S. A. Pierpoint, east of the city, was cutting his field of oats yesterday. He says they will make a fair yield.

Ex-Judge, Sam Hayworth, west of Barnard, was transacting business in Maryville yesterday. He says wheat is most all in the shock, oats soon ready to harvest, corn about all laid by and prospects looking good for a good crop year.

R. L. and Slacker Bilby, west of Quitman, report the crop outlook looking good over that way barring that which was overflowed by the river. Part of that will be a total loss.

Fletcher Dalby and family, south of Burlington Junction were Maryville visitors yesterday. Mr. Dalby says he believes conditions are improving.

Howard Garrett of Clearmont, says the farmers up that way are feeling good over the corn prospect. If weather is favorable from now on a great crop will result.

Mrs. Braniger to Ohio.

Mrs. R. S. Braniger will leave tonight for Barnesville, Ohio, where she has been called by the illness of Mrs. Emma Hoge, a sister of Mr. Braniger. Another sister, Miss Alice Braniger, will accompany Mrs. Braniger to Maryville to make her future home. Mrs. Braniger will be gone about a week.

Town Has Changed A Great Deal In 60 Years, Vet Says

"Well, well, well," was the comment of Levi J. Allen, Civil War veteran, as he stepped off the south-bound Burlington train this morning.

Mr. Allen rubbed his eyes, reflectively caressed his drooping mustache, muttered something about how times do change, and then remarked that this was his first visit to Maryville in sixty years.

"Yes, the town has changed right smart," the old soldier said. "When I first came to this locality in '65, a few houses, two or three stores, and a blacksmith shop were about all there was to the town. Well, well, well."

Mr. Allen was a "regular Yankee" in the Civil War by his own admission. He was born in Iowa but came to Denyer, Mo., on September 1, 1864. His first visit to Maryville was in '65. At that time, what is now blocked off into the town's residential section was rolling prairie, inhabited to a large extent by wolves and deer.

Mr. Allen is visiting his nephew, A. B. Prather, southwest of Maryville. While waiting for his relative to fight the mud to meet him this morning, he took a trip from the station to the business district and back.

"Well, well, well,—so this is Maryville. Why, sixty years ago there wasn't even a railroad through here, to my recollection. And what is now pavement wasn't even a street then. The houses of the town were mostly on top of the hill, and the population was about 200, if one exaggerated a little."

Mr. Allen said he didn't know anybody around Maryville, but that he was acquainted with "old Tom Rankin" over about Tarkio. He had known him in Iowa before coming here.

The old soldier will visit in this locality practically all summer.

Famous Men Are Born July 8; Two Live in Maryville

Today is the birthday of Mayor W. O. Garrett and W. C. Pierce of Maryville and John D. Rockefeller, Sr., of Tarrytown, N. Y. Mayor Garrett says he was born in Jackson County, Ind., fifty-eight years ago today and came to this county with his parents when he was about six months old. Mr. Pierce was celebrating his sixty-third birthday, having been born in Crawford County, Mo., and locating in Maryville forty-seven years ago with the building of the Wabash railroad. Mr. Rockefeller is 87 years old. He hasn't come to Maryville—yet.

"Many important people were born on July 8," says Mayor Garrett.

Mr. Rockefeller was reported to be distributing brand new dimes among his friends.

Roy Claire Coffey To Hawaii With Marines

Former Maryville Boy Is Assigned To Duty At Pearl Harbor Naval Base, Near Honolulu.

Mare Island, Cal., July 8.—The sights and customs of the Hawaiian Islands will soon become familiar to Roy Clare Coffey, of Maryville, Mo., who left here recently for a tour of duty in the 'Paradise of the Pacific." He is one of a group of U. S. Marines assigned to duty at Pearl Harbor, near Honolulu.

Coffey lived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Coffey, Rural Route 3, Maryville, before he joined the Marine Corps last April. For a while he was stationed at Mare Island, later being assigned to duty at Pearl Harbor.

Small detachments of marines have been on duty at Pearl Harbor since 1904, guarding the naval base. The marines usually remain there for a year or longer, and have ample opportunities for viewing the sights that have made Hawaii famous in song and story. Athletic sports, moving pictures, and other forms of recreation also help to vary the regular military routine.

High Prairie Has Two Ball Games On July 4

The single men of High Prairie won from the married men in a baseball game played Sunday. The score was 12 to 11. In the game which followed this, the High Prairie Wild Cats defeated the River Rats, 7 to 1. Next Sunday the Married men will again play the single men.

Child Badly Injured By a Power Wringer

The arm of Billy Hanna, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hanna of the White Cloud vicinity, was badly crushed and bruised and the end of his little finger was cut off Tuesday morning when he was caught in the wringer of a power washing machine. His wounds were dressed by a physician, but he is suffering a great deal.

Weather Hot and Dry But Crops Do Well

Corn in Missouri Is Making Remarkable Growth, Says Report.—Reserve Soil Moisture Low.

In Missouri the week ending Tuesday morning, July 6, was relatively hot and dry, with a large amount of sunshine, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued by George Reeder, meteorologist at Columbia for the United States Department of Agriculture.

"But in spite of the apparent adverse condition," the report continues, "most crops did well and the wheat, oat and hay harvest made good progress, the field workers being but little affected by the heat.

"Frequently," it continues, "the afternoon temperatures were around and above the 100 degree value. Showers were light scattered and mostly just crop teasers except some generous to excessive local amounts fell in the southeastern counties, bringing much relief to a few localities of that rather seriously dry part of the State. One rain of 6 inches fell at Sikeston, resulting in damage; but a generous fall extended north beyond Benton and south to Morehouse.

"The corn crop in general is making remarkable growth; much of the more advanced part is laid by. Except in parts of the Southeast where it has began to curl, the main crop is not suffering from lack of moisture, the reserve soil moisture is low. The seasonal rainfall is still nearly 40 per cent below normal.

"Wheat harvest is nearly 60 per cent done; heads are unusually well filled; and there is a fair crop of oats. The second alfalfa crop is being saved. Pastures, gardens and most truck need rain.

"Cotton is well cultivated and as a rule the crop is in good condition; good rains would be of benefit."

Rolla, St. Joseph and Brunswick reported maximum temperatures of 102, while several other towns besides Maryville had marks of 100. The week's rainfall here was .82 inch as compared with a total average of .46 for the state and a 36-year normal for the state of 1.06. The total state rainfall from April 1 to date has been 9.20 inches, while the 36-year normal is 14.05.

WHITE CLOUD.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ringold have purchased the Will Jeffers property in Hopkins and will move there this fall. We certainly hate to see them leave White Cloud, as we count them one of the best families in this extra good neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Oi Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Boyd, Misses Ruby Baldwin and Olive Boyd, Bert Baldwin, Henry Brown and Harold Baldwin, went to Bedford Sunday afternoon and witnessed the ball game between Hopkins and Bedford. Hopkins won with a 5 to 0 score.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Closser and daughter, Miss Inez, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMahon, all of Kansas City, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Thull. Mrs. Closser is a sister of Mrs. Thull. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thull and family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramsey and little daughter, Darline, were Sunday evening callers at Mr. Thull's.

The Fourth of July celebration at Clarinda Monday seemed to attract a larger crowd from here than did the other celebrations, perhaps due to the game there being played between Hopkins and Villisca. Those attending were Mrs. Gertie Morehouse and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baldwin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orville McMillen, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown and son, Wesley Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Oi Coleman, Mrs. Will Boyd and daughter, Miss Olive.

How does Servel Electric Refrigeration work?

That question is on many tongues today instead of ice, it uses chilling coils—in these coils flows the Servel refrigerant—this Servel refrigerant is a remarkable substance.

Come in and we will show it to you—our Sales Manager will pour some into a glass, and insert a thermometer—the mercury will drop down to 10 degrees below zero—That's cold!

See this, and you will begin to understand the wonder of Servel—why it can freeze ice-cubes in such abundance—why it is so simple.

Then you'll appreciate what Servel will mean in your home—how botherless—how automatic—how it will preserve food indefinitely and introduce cooking with cold!—how many worries it will lift from your household.

Electric refrigeration is a wonderful thing, when you own a Servel.

This Convenience of Servel!

What Does It Really Consist Of?

Let us suppose a Servel Electric Refrigerator comes into your home.

Immediately, the problem of keeping food vanishes. The problem of "what to have" becomes easier. Leftovers are no longer a tragedy, but a help. Work in the kitchen is strangely lightened and organized. Interesting things add themselves to your menus, such as ice-cubes—frozen desserts—and chilled salads. All foods somehow taste better.

That's the result of Servel in your home—no one outstanding benefit—a multitude of smaller benefits—combined, they perform a real miracle in your household.

All this Servel does without attention on your part—it is truly and entirely automatic—a wonderful electric servant.

Let us show you some of these things at our show-rooms. You'll learn things worth while.

SYNOPSIS.

Big Tim Burke, real estate operator, and known to his associates as a land pirate, discharges one of his young lieutenants called Pol Gaillard, because he is irritated by the latter's sleekness of appearance, and nonchalant manner. Pol learns that his ex-boss covets a desirable piece of Long Island property owned by Professor Husted and that another land shark, Michael Cadrigan, is after the same bit of land. Cadrigan lives on the shore of Long Island sound with his step-daughter, Veronica. His estate is across the bay from that of Professor Husted. The old professor lives like a hermit, and Veronica is his only visitor. Cadrigan asks Veronica to discontinue calling on the old man, intimating that the professor's enemies may harm her. Noticing a sloop anchored opposite the house, Veronica suggests to her step-father that they call on the owner. They are invited on board, and their host introduces himself as Pol Gaillard, posing as an itinerant poet and artist. That night Pol rows over to the Husted house and while he is ashore his sloop is cut adrift. He rows over to his boat and releases his second anchor. The next night he and Veronica meet at Professor Husted's house. On leaving Pol finds his boat has been scuttled. The professor invites Pol to be his guest and he accepts, although he is able to salvage his boat.

Pol dines with the Cadrigans. His host offers him five thousand dollars to get Professor Husted to sell him his land. Pol refuses.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

Pol Makes A Discovery.

The professor sighed. "Have you some ulterior motive in your argument, Mr. Gaillard?"

"A modest and disinterested motive, Professor Husted."

"Please state it."

"Then if you will pardon the impertinence, I am clumsily attempting to advance a plea for fighting in defense of your peace upon your property, professor. I desire to enlist in that cause."

There was a moment's silence. Then the professor said, "You don't advise selling, Mr. Gaillard?"

"Not under the coercion of threat, Professor Husted."

"You'd advise my fighting back?"

"I'd advise you authorizing me to fight back."

"And why should you enlist in my cause?"

"First and foremost and aside from personal sentiment, it is to some extent my own. I decline to be bullied. I decline also to remain passive while my host is being bullied. The obligations of hospitality entail responsibilities to guest as well as host. The guest is bound to defend his host no less than the host to defend the guest. There are hostile, covetous forces that have been set in motion against you here. I desire to play my part in the combating of them."

The professor considered this ingenious offer with knit brows. "I abominate strife, Mr. Gaillard."

"Your poems are militant, Professor Husted. You are not 'an old man' and very tired, and although none of us can do better than to pray to God, those kings of Israel who furnish your theme did not find this exercise incompatible with smiting their enemies."

The reference was happy, if a summons to strife can indeed be that. The luminous eyes of the professor began to glow. The bony prominences of his jaw assumed a harder set.

"Perhaps you are right. What do you propose to do?"

"Put the fear of God in the hearts of your enemies."

"Do your know who these are?"

"That information will be forthcoming. At this moment they are also mine. They think my actual errand here is to insinuate myself to your good graces with the object of persuading you to grant me concessions of your property. Even if I came here with such a purpose, I would by now have entirely abandoned it."

"Why, Mr. Gaillard?"

"Because I happen to be a man of honor. I am also a man of heart. I am not avaricious. But more than these, I am the last thing that you or anybody else would probably suspect." He took off the toast and began to butter the crisp slices.

"And what is that?

"A born fighter. Why should we try to reason out instinctive convictions? This intuition is so strong in me that I have sometimes appeared to play the coward rather than strike a blow that I could not help but feel would be amiss. On the other hand, it might easily be a death blow without any of the compunction to be felt by the man who is motived by reason rather than intuition. I can sense the good and bad in people. There are some persons who enjoy the respect of their neighbors and whom I could not bear to touch, can scarcely look at without a tingling of the scalp. I can feel evil just as a normal person detects a loathsome odor. I am a sort of galvanometer of good and bad."

The professor stared at him searchingly and unconvinced. "A dangerous faculty, if indeed you have it, Mr. Gaillard. Does it detail itself?"

"No sir. It confines itself to three zones, more or less defined, good, bad and a mixture of both."

"And where have you lately sensed the extremes?"

"In yourself, sir. You could be set down like Abou Ben Adhem, as one who loves his fellow men."

"You flatter me, Mr. Gaillard. And the other extremes?"

Pol turned slowly and shot out the name, "Cadrigan."

Professor Husted gave a gasp. The blood receded from his face, leaving it mottled. He moistened his lips, then asked with some effort, "What do you know about Cadrigan?"

"Very little, sir," said Pol. "But I feel a great deal."

The professor rose, stepped to a cupboard, took down a bottle of some colorless solution, poured a little into a glass, and adding water, swallowed it. Then he looked at Pol.

"I think, Mr. Gaillard," said he, "that tomorrow you had better go aboard your boat and leave this place."

Pol bowed. "I shall go aboard my boat, sir, but these waters, I believe are free to all."

The blood poured back into the professor's face. "Am I to understand that you refuse to leave, sir, that you persist in meddling with a situation that in no way concerns yourself?"

"I shall not leave, sir, until I have paid my score."

A sudden tremor seized the professor. His knees wobbled and he sank back into his chair. A lividity spread over his face. His host seemed to be on the point of tottering out of the straight backed kitchen chair.

"I'm sorry, sir," said Pol. "I had no idea or intention of upsetting you. I'll go—I'll do anything you say."

The professor strugglingly raised his arm. "Help—me—into the other room—the couch."

Pol took him under the shoulders, raised him to his feet, and half dragged, half carried him into the living room then laid him on the day bed, arranged by Veronica as a divan. He lighted the big lamp. As its rays grew stronger, he glanced at the professor and saw that his eyes were fixed on the opposite wall above the mantel piece. His face was vacant, but as the glow from the lamp struck it aslant, Pol made a discovery.

The wall was of plaster that had once been kalsomined a dull tint of yellow. This evidently had shared in Veronica's house cleaning, wiped off perhaps, but not rekalsomined. And now as the yellow lamp light streamed against it at an angle that emphasized its slight irregularities, Pol discovered the faded delineation left by two crossed swords that many for many years have been attached there undisturbed.

An Air Flivver

This diminutive De Haviland "moth"—a regular flivver of the air—was used by Col. and Mrs. Sempill of London in an 800-mile air jaunt. It has a four-cylinder, 27 horse power motor and goes 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. The wings fold up when it is not in use so that it can be housed, as shown above, in an ordinary garage. Below Col. Sempill and a lamb inspect the plane after a landing in a sheep pasture.

NEWS FROM MISSOURI CITIES AND TOWNS

West Plains—A proposition for a $100,000 bond issue for a sewer system here was voted by a heavy majority. Bids will be requested shortly and the contract is expected to be let soon.

Poplar Bluff—Establishment of a "white way" system in the downtown district, to be illuminated with modern electric lights, is being advocated by business and property interests here.

St. Louis—A bill is pending before the Board of Aldermen to complete the motorization of the fire department here. With its passage the dependable old fire horse will pass out of existence.

Shelbyville—A huge granite memorial erected in honor of Shelby County's World War dead was unveiled July 4 with impressive ceremonies. The monument is twelve feet high.

Marshall—J. C. Patterson, formerly in the grocery and mercantile business in Corydon, Ia., has been retained as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here. He already has assumed his duties.

Sikeston—An electrical manufacturing company with a monthly payroll of about $2,000 has been in touch with local officials with a view to moving their factory here.

Memphis—A canvass is being conducted among business men and citizens here to ascertain whether $100,000 can be pledged to obtain a shoe factory for the city.

Trenton—Trenton has been selected as the convention city of the 1927 encampment of the United Spanish American War Veterans. The meeting will be held next June.

Ste. Genevieve—Farmers are reporting the average yield of wheat as good. Harvesting in this section is nearing an end.

Parma—Estimates on a proposed water and sewage system here will be presented soon by engineers who have been called here.

Crane—The new city well just completed at a depth of 890 feet is expected to yield 200 gallons of water a minute for city use.

Cape Girardeau—A definite program for playground work here for the season has been laid out by the director of public school athletics. Baseball and tennis teams are being organized.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Reed Becomes Party Hero

BY PAUL R. MALLON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 8 (United Press)—The worm will turn and sit in the throne of the king.

That might be written in the new scripture of politics when historians come to the present ascendancy of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri. Reed's activities in this session of congress have brought him to perhaps the most prominent position in the senate—a position where Democrats now are eager to follow him.

It was only a few years ago that Reed was ousted from the Democratic National convention in San Francisco. There his opposition to the policies of Woodrow Wilson brought down the wrath of the party leaders upon his heads. From that time until the middle of the present session of congress Reed was more out of the party than he was in. His policies seldom coincided with what the party leaders thought best. He was a lone wolf.

The fight he led against the world court at the opening of this session widened the breach. It was about that time that Senator Cole Blease, himself a stormy spirit within the party because of his opposition to Wilson, said: "Jim Reed and I are the only two Democrats left in the senate."

Shortly thereafter Senator Robinson Democratic floor leader, told Reed on the floor that his views would never be mottoes for Democrats.

Reed worked alone, sometimes with the Republican insurgents, sometimes with the insurgents in the Democratic party. He fought the Republican-Democratic coalition on the tax bill. He worked for Walsh's unsuccessful proposal to investigate the Mellon controlled Aluminum Company of America.

Then came his sensational investigation of the Republican primaries, showing that nearly $3,000,000 was spent by the majority party candidates in the Pennsylvania senatorial race. It gave the Democrats what may prove the biggest issue at a time when they had no acceptable big issue with the Republicans.

Simultaneously tariff and farm relief subjects came to the fore and Reed again took leadership in the fight against the Republican proposals.

While some Democrats will never be able to forget Reed's international policies and his opposition to Wilson, they are now willing to bury the hatchet and follow Reed in matters where his leadership demands recognition.

End Bunion Pain Forever

No Need To Suffer Another Day Those Agonizing Torturing Pains.

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflamed, swollen toe joints and get them down to normal and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such enlargements would be wise to reduce them before they reach a more or less chronic stage.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces last a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their housework easily, happy homes are the result.

Thousands of testimonial letters have been received from women in different walks of life, stating that the Compound has helped them.

Australia Voting Law Adds Million Eligible

All Citizens Not Voting Subject to $10 Fine—Excuse of Sickness Frequently Offered.

Sydney—Compulsory voting is being given its trial in Australia and electoral officers have been calling upon non-voters to show reasons why they should not be summoned and fined the sum of ten dollars, as defined under the law.

Some of the excuses given by the defaulters have been ingenuous. One of the most frequent excuses offered to the authorities is sickness. Mistaken closing hour of the voting is another common plea. One lonely farmed pleaded that he had forgotten the day. There was one man who said he did not know elections were being held. There were a few religious objectors.

One Communist, refusing to give an excuse to the electoral officer, was brought before a court, and there he explained that he did not vote because there was no candidate of his political faith.

Perhaps the most curt, yet most expressive reply, was the man who wrote: "I could not vote because I was in jail."

Officials state that every excuse that indicates that it is valid is accepted, and legal action is taken only in extreme cases. It is anticipated that when all non-voters have been questioned, not more than ten percent will be subjected to the fines provided for by the compulsory voting law, which has increased the number of voters by nearly a million. In one electorate of over 50,000 voters, more than 98 percent of the enfranchised went to the ballot box.

Work Declares West Still Backs Coolidge

No Wavering In Support Of Present National Administration, Secretary Of Interior Believes.

Denver, Colo., July 8.—Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of Interior, who is making a tour of the West "to look over parks and public lands," reports that "the West is still solidly behind the Coolidge administration."

When Secretary Work left Washington it was rumored that his journey was not so much in the interest of his department as to test out the political situation.

Interviews granted by Work would indicate that he has had an "ear to the ground" to sense westerners' feeling as well as to do a little promoting for the administration himself.

"The west is still behind the Coolidge administration," says Work.

"A Republican congress has lopped six billion of the public debt. Reorganization of the interior department has been always completed, as a saving of $129,000,000 in the appropriation for the fiscal year, as compared to three years ago.

"Coolidge economy, the brand that has been applied to the interior department, isn't economy, it's efficiency.

"There is no wavering of the West in its support of Coolidge," he declared. "The recent defeat of the principles of Senator Cummins, McKinley, Stanfield and Pepper cannot by any stretch of the imagination be construed as a revolt of the voters of the Republican party or President Coolidge."

Regarding the farmers of the West, Work said they can count on the President "to do the wise thing in their behalf and the Republican party to still further benefit them."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, July 8.—Grain prices closed lower on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Losses of from three-fourths to a cent were recorded at the close in the wheat pit, and the trend will probably continue downward for some time.

Corn showed a little more strength than wheat, closing from 1-8 to 3-4 points on the close nevertheless.

Cash prices were steady to higher.

Oats was dull and neglected, the close showing only a very small fractional difference from yesterday's close.

Provisions lost more than they have for some time on free lard liquidation.

College Teams Ready to Play on Wet Field

Maryville And Warrensburg Open First Of Three-Game Baseball Series This Afternoon.

Although the rain of last night made the fair grounds diamond a bit soggy, the Maryville and Warrensburg Teachers College baseball teams were on the field before 3 o'clock this afternoon for the first of their three-game series.

The Warrensburg team, under the leadership of Coach Tad Reid, came to Maryville in automobiles. The players are staying at Battery C armory. The second game of the series will be played tomorrow afternoon, and the third will be on Saturday.

Seven Stations Will Broadcast Pageant

To Be Held In Stadium Of Washington University, St. Louis—To Depict Transportation Development.

New York, July 8.—A hook-up of seven middlewestern and southern stations will broadcast the Missouri Pacific pageant on Friday evening, July 9 on the installation and regulation of the broadcasting equipment being handled by the Broadcasting Company of America.

The pageant will be held in the stadium of Washington University, St. Louis, and will depict the development of transportation west of the Mississippi River from the early stages of railroading to the present time.

James Haupt, announcer for WEAF, New York, has been sent to St. Louis to handle the microphone Friday, while Gerard Chatfield of the WEAF staff accompanied him for the purpose of assisting in the broadcasting arrangements.

The following stations will broadcast the pageant:

For A Full Summer of Real Comfort!

Palm Beach

There's nothing like Suits of this fabric, if tailored correctly, that will give every man the fullest measure of comfort. And you'll want one, maybe two, at the price that we are offering them.

Why wear a suit of winter or early spring weight during the following 40 to 60 days? You would not have the comfort that you would get out of one of our summer-weight suits, and, beyond that, there is a point that we desire to stress—You cannot afford to wear a heavier-weight suit at the price that it has cost you—you will be convinced of this once you see the prices that are carried on our Summer Weights.
